Subjective: I was getting accustomed, dear, at receiving a little more often your letters, and enjoying it. But it seems that it is all over now. Flora.6. Nothing for days and days. I feel so uneasy here: This lettle bit of mexico between Tueatan and The states seems so transitory. I cannot work or feel anything about the present. I am marrily looking towards that near feeture helper by this neutral surrounding of an hotel atmosphere. The few theople I met here seem of the past While you are present, dearest, so very present that I am Surprised not to hear you or at least that little compensation of reasing of you, that you give me so seldom.

I think so much of you, these days, and how much is going to remain true of what is my memory of you. You are going to be different of course in many ways and we are going to hees a few days to be one again, but if you give me that same full confidence you has in me, dear, I amy think there is going to be any effort in moulding my old love to your new self.
If n those years of knowing you, I have at least gained that hnowledge that you are very real and true, and that you are very real and true, and as such quite worth the somewhat humble attitude that is mine towards you. I mean true to your own logic, dearest, and Jam your own logic, dearest, and Jam glad that this leads you to love glad that this leads you to love me a little, those days, and need me a little, so that I can be me a little is you, be it only of some use to you, be it only as the "hole in the ground".

If I am a little more than that, why don't you write me - you never say much when you feel deeply, but you don't say much either when you forget. So I never know which silence it is) and this makes me feel rather unhappy. I am still tires, and very lanely, and I so much bent towards you that I heed something in return your Jean.

Dear Anita I wrote you This morning but your letter received this afternoon would have changed a little my mood, so I write you again. If I understand (and why dant you sheat very clear with me) you are thinking of getting married which is infinitely reasonable. You have a young man that seems to you a possible good husband - you have have me also and you ash my opinion. I cleared all the question between you and me longago and you know I am not "marriageable" at least in the near future of gave you the reasons. So you are perfectly free to choose whichever you want. I cannot lift a finger or utter a reason against it. "Objectively" as you say I can give you an opinion on your choice but I know you reasonable enough my dear It was a hard blow on my pride to know that you were in love with another man and planning to get married - I hat got a cuistomes to consider you whose a part of me, and unable to act completely independent of course it was stupio - It is her haps also that your last letters (but they were a month old) has prepared me so little to it. I know T shorely take the thing as casually as you seem to take it that it was logical and inescapable - that I have seen it for you and spoke of it with seen it for you and spoke of it with you, but any how the fact is some thing different - this does not mean that I don't approve of it- It just changes a situation that was very dear to me because we are not any more two but there is your escape towards the third which is for me an unknown the third which is for me an unknown grantity well some you the letter swrote just after reading yours. I know it is a little dogmatic or perantic but it status the situation clearly. Cxcuse it, dear, but I could not be elegant and sincere in this occasion of antitis fust egoism to feel unhappy.

Please d'ant excuse yourself or say I mis understood your letter. Ya sufri la que habia que sufrir and I think you act right.

I received your answers and poem. I thank you for it. The poem is very beautiful. Without brake with your other verses it has a density never attained before. And the human expression in it is deeper, more "catholie" to use The word as you used it once towards me. As to your "excuses" my dear you need no excuses. In case of your marriage I just thought indispensable for you to try a mental unity with the man you would choose and thus could not find any more my place aside you. Of your plans as you tell them now, dearest, I could Inot say that they satisfy me entirely. Inderstand your bodily needs and their strength and your herfect right to to what you think most fittes as to your health and heace - I know also a strong jealousy in me, something animal and male, increased by this fact that between your body and mine the barriers are only mental and on my side and they resist so feelly against the fact of our otherwise full unity. I tell you all this, dear, not to influence you in anything, just to tell you

What to do, or dis, what I ask you the right to know it. This is the only right I have on you dear and if I would loose that one, if anything wital to you would be secret from me, it seems that I would not be with you what we have been before. You see how silly Jam dear. I thought I has loose you all and now that you come back to me I find myself with an hesitation and meertitude and that feeling that there is a little bit of with your attitude, yet not enough to be mine without restrictions Excuse me for all this I could tell it better than write it. There is something broknen in me. I would like to be with you, hear you and just watch you and under stand and cease to criticise. But I don't know how when I am going to be with you. Your beautiful poem pleased me and also your last letter, but There is such a long long teme that 5 did not receive one. Do you have nothing to tell me or are you thinking repetition is useless, or are you again in one of your moments of seeing me in the past.

You asked me questiones, I answered them; perhaps you are dipleased with the answer -It is now very warm here and many persons are leaving soon; I have a sense of only camping here and begin to look for a more real home. I cannot give you any security about my being with you soon; it depends of so many money-givers and future plans of other people. It seems also that I looked forward with such eagerness for that moment of being with you again that it takes an air of irreality just now, Though

You see how restless it makes me to know that you are unsatisfied with my attitude: I would like to please you dear, I know I can do it a little by helping you profession hally, but so little; also when I am with you and you sit with your head against me and sleep, or dream or think what you want. I know that, at those moment, at least you enjoy being with me, perhaps because my presence is not an imposition — I don't know, I Thought Swas useful to you, and yet, when I analyse, facts escape me. Ferhaps you have no real need of me or I don't how to answer your needs, but even so, I would like so much not to loose you. I write you silly or the same thing and you must not be displeased because in spite of all my brain work around you and all my excuses and explanations you are my very dearest Anita and soon I am going to be with your. printegens twoods director being one

Anita linda: (lee "Cielito lindo".)

Llego a mi casa y me encuentro tu sentimental carta que me apresuro a contestar a pesar de no saber si algún día llegará a tus manos, "pos" como no entiendo el inglés; no he podido traducir la dirección que me pu siste. Hay un "the" que bien pudiera ser W o "che"; esto último no lo creo pues no soy tan optimista. Me causa verdadero regocijo saber que todos los carros del tren en que viajas son "confort" aunque creo que hubieras preferido que mejor fueran "con-buik" o "con-pakard" (!cuidado, que hay viene Sala!) En fin, ya en nueva york al lado de NUEVA YORK, no te preocupararán estas menumencias, y sólo tendrás tiempo de saborear tu felicidad, tan grande, que seguramente tienes que tomar "taxi" para recorrer la! Haces bien vacila que lo de la reencarna ción es problemático. Yo también lo haré, aunque con diferentes animales: yo me tengo que cons solar con los caballos, que ne levantan el espiritu como metro y medio, no dejandome recordar las terrenas inquietudes. !Si junto con el caballo tuviera una de esas gringuitas muy "standard", con piernas muy "chus", mi consuelo se ria perfecto, porque ya lo sabes, dicen (aunque yo no lo creo, que dos animales valen tanto co mo una mujer..... Charlot se consuela con la virgen. Desde que te fuiste, no se ha bajado del andamio, pasando el día acariciándola con el pincel, con el que además le unta un poco de carmín para emparejar el rubor..... Desde el día fatal, no le he visto ni el polvo, por lo que tu te imaginarás lo inquieto que estoy. A Tina lo mismo, no la he vuelto a ver: cuando me hice militar de jé de ser sentimental, y como con ella todo es romanticismo Y de negocios, a Diego le lei lo que decias del sombrero; luego recibió carta de la voluble

Dorothy, y creo que está conforme con lo que ella dice.

Tu clavijero te lo remito hoy, junto con esta carta y con las mil excusas a que eres acredora. Y como el tiempo apremia, porque el domingo no hay correo sino hasra las doce, le corto aqué, conm la esperanza de que dentro de ocho dias encontraré la contestación.

It would be useless to recriminate as to your attitude with me. You know that whatever it is, my own attitude, forwards you is the same, which does not mean that your inexplicable silence was not felt fully. Why was not the Maya Art article published? I spoke of it and wrote of it to people because nothing could make me think that you were not sure to publish it. Interest you also how you knew that the ricture solv in that Center has been paid 150. And also the pictures (quitaris ta etc ...) are still at the Custom in Vera Cruz so that a word from the consulate can make them return to N. Yorks. Swould pay the trip, si no hay remedio, this is important, I wanted to know if mortey has received and if received, has read a hapen mio (Fashion in dresses as a method of dating monuments) to the Congress. De lo mio. I am so far from the mood in which you seem to be now, that it would be out of place to say anything thank you anyhow for the confidence you have in me so that you can let me for weetrs fenousing that I don't change toward you. No pude, inolvidable amiguita mia, evitarme la tristeza de su ausencia recurriendo a su dispola y descortés filosofía del ", y qué!", porque munda prei perder tanto perdiendola.
